

National Museum of CAMBRIDGE GLASS

Step Back in Time

Experience what it was like to work at the Cambridge Glass Company many years ago. You can watch a vintage film showing glass workers at work in the 1940s. Learn about the pride and dedication of the artisans who produced the elegant handmade glassware still treasured today. Stroll through colorful, sparkling displays led by friendly guides! You won't want to miss the formal dining room set with elegant table settings or the replica of the Cambridge Glass Company Sample Room that features glassware for sale as part of the museum gift shop.

Interact with History

Dress as the glassworkers did in a bygone era while holding the tools used to manufacture each piece as you portray the process of glassmaking. Make a rubbing from an authentic etching plate once used by a company known worldwide for quality. Touch moulds used to create the glassware. Feel the quality of the crystal in the museum education center. Visit the Museum Gift Shop where you'll find unique items for everyone on your shopping list!

Holiday Tour Opportunities

During Dickens Victorian Village, costumed guides dressed in Victorian fashion will guide you through the museum decorated for the season. Shop the Christmas Bazaar as the townspeople did years ago when the Cambridge Glass Company would donate glassware to the St. Johns Church Bazaar for residents to purchase as gifts. See a tree decorated for the holidays with Cambridge Glass.
